Helena People Resting Now in Anticipation of Gay Times During December.

The Proposed Inaugural Ball and Suggestions Concerning its Conduct.

Pleasant Entertainments During the Week The Comi g Episcopal Entertainment Personal and General.

Very little of interest has transpired in a social way during the past week, and it seems as if the promise of a merry month in December had taken the edge off the coffin last Friday evening and asked the appetite for much social gaiety during the present month. The prospect of an inaugural ball in the near future, however, is cheering intelligence, and undoubtedly such an event would prove a very popular demonstration of the good will generally borne to wards our new governor and the high esteem in which he is held, while, of course, it would serve to express the hearty appreciation of all good citizens for the fact that we are now duly enrolled as a state, and entitled to a star upon the spangled banner. Such a ball, gotten up under proper auspices, could not fail to attract a very large majority of the people of the state. In the great plunge a dancing floor could be easily constructed which would accommodate fully 5,000 people, while the supper could be given in the hotel, and the reception take place in the ball room before the dan-cers take pessession of the floor. If such a ball is given, no expense should be spared in making it the grandest ever given in the late territory of Montana, and every care taken to keep it select, which can easily be done by allowing committees to have the entire charge of the invitations and sale of entire charge of the invitations and sale of tickets, and permitting none but the holder of such an invitation to purchase a ticket. The inaugural ball in New York was a fiasco because loose characters succeeded in obtaining an entrance, and the result was an orgie which was a disgrace to the city and the names of those associated with the ball. We can, however, manage things better here, and make this event not only a pleasurable anticipation but a memorable. urable anticipation but a memorable reminiscence in the annals of our new state.

On Thursday evening last the Literary society held the first of their regular monthly meetings, which proved so popular monthly meetings. monthly meetings, which proved so popular last year. The reception was given by Dr. J. J. Leiser, to whom the success of the society is mainly due, and the attendance was very large and extremely enthusiastic. Original papers were read by Miss Emmeline Green, Mrs. R. S. Hill and Messrs. Dabeney, Leiser, Hill and Simpson, while Mrs. Smedes recited, giving a very pathetic rendering of "Minne Ha Ha's Death," and Mr. McRea contributed his share to the evening's entertainment by playing some Scotch selections on the bag pipes. An excellent supper was served, and it need not be inferred that literary exercises in the least impair modern appetites; in fact the least impair modern appetites; in fact the feast of reason was not half so easy to digest as the supper which followed, although the presumption is that it was quite as palapanied upon the piano by Miss Grace Maston, who afterwards played several charm-ing selections of her own. Doctor Head, whose genial affability is well known, proved himself to be a most accomplished host and left nothing undone to make his guests feel left nothing undone to make his guests feel perfectly at home. Among those who enjoyed the doctor's genial hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Bleaker, Miss Allison, Miss Knowles, Miss Mosier, who is rapidly making herself known as a legal luminary, Mrs. Martin and Misses Martin, Capt. John Smith, Mr. Settles, Mr. and Mrs. Wymeskerry and many others.

This will be a most excellent opportunity for securing Xmas gifts and at the same time helping along a good cause. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon and evening and an art gallery, under the supervision of Mr. Palmer, will add to the enjoyments of all."

Mr. and Mrs J. B. Wells are expected back to-day, and will probably locate at the Grand Central until their new house on Rodney street can be got in readiness.

Mr. Bernans Kelley has severed his con-nection with the Jay Hawk mine and will engage in the real estate business in Great Falls, probably forming a partnership with his brother and Mr. Todd of that city.

Mr. Clarence Andrews, of New York city, is paying Helena a flying visit after a very successful hunting trip and a tour of the National Park. Mr. Andrews is delighted with Helena, and regards it as the coming city of the west.

THE DEAD FIREMAN'S BABY.

Shortly before 6 o'clock in the morning the gong on the wall that had so often summoned him to his duty clanged an alarm for the Polk street fire. It had sounded once and was repeating the alarm when the little girl came flying into the room in her long, white nightdress.

She looked at the silent watchers and then ran to the side of the dead man. Climbing on a chair she reached into the coffin and shook her father by the shoulder.

"But," persisted the baby, "he always got up before when the bell rung—why wouldn't he wake up? What's mamma crying for? What's everybody crying for?" And the troubled little child burst into tears, and, crying piteously at what she did not know, was gently carried back to her cot to cry herself to sleep again.

PROSPEROUS ANACONDA.

No Boom, but the Smelter City is Steadily Growing in Wealth.

Anaconda, Nov. 9.-[Special.]-At no time in its history has Anaconda shown so large a spirit of public enterprise. Everywhere throughout the city are evidences of growth and stability. There is no "boom" here, On Thursday evening last Dr. Head gave a very pleasant little entertainment to about twenty or thirty of his friends at his residence on Benton avenue. The evening was pleasantly passed with music, cards and dancing, while an excellent cold collation and claret punch was served at midnight. Among the musicians who delighted the assembled guests were Miss Mosier, who sang some very beautiful Italian songs, Mr. Settler, who showed himself to be a master of the violin and was artistically accomcome an object of great interest to the elligence, capital and labor of the east, and of foreign countries as well.

The Montana Union machine shops and their appurtenances now being built in the eastern part of the city, will, when finished, add greatly to the business interests of the city. In addition to these the foundation is being laid for a large freight depot, the business of the place long since having outgrown the capacity of the old one. A new passenger depot will also be built at an early day.

A ten-thousand dollar addition will soon have been added to our central public school building, giving it an air of comfort and building, giving it an air of comfort and elegance that strike with pleasure every beholder. The furniture will be new, and the entire property will be enclosed by a neat fence. The superintendent and teachers have all been chosen, and the session will open in about ten days.

Representative J. K. Toole has just completed a beautiful residench on Fourth street. If the state canvassing board by the counting out process should deprive him of a well earned seat in the legislature, he certainly will be allowed a seat in his own elegant home in Anaconda.

We are glad to be able to report the convalescence of Marcus Daly, whose complicated illness has been of a serious type. Not only his neighbors, among whom he jistly stands high, but the people of Montana at large will be glad to hear of the recovery of this public spirited gentleman, whose sagacity and indomitable energy have not only made for himself an ample fortune, but have likewise contributed to the support of thousands of his fellow-citizens and the general sands of his fellow-citizens and the general development of the state of Montana. The city authorities have taken the first step towards a system of general sewerage bonds for the construction of which will be placed on the market and offered for sale on the 20th inst. Eastern capitalists have already made inquiries concerning these bonds, and the probabilities are that they will com-mand a premium at once.

Croup Can Be Prevented.

We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. There is no question about this; as it has been done in thousands of cases, and you may depend upon it that when a child takes the croup, it is wholly owing to the negligence of its parents. True croup never appears without due and timely warning; a few hours, or a day or two before the attack, the child becomes hourse. This hourseness is the first indication of croup, and is a sure sign that croup is to follow, unless promptly and properly treated. The free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed with each bottle, under the heading "to prevent croup," will dispel all symptoms of the disease. The first sign of croup, hoarseness, may be overlooked by young mothers or those not familiar with the disease. Under such circum-stances, or when not properly treated, the hoarseness becomes more marked and the There is a movement on foot to inaugurate a swimming club to meet at the Hotel Broadwater, consisting of the Helena 400, and they propose to set aside certain evenings throughout the winter months, and organize races for which suitable prizes will be given.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. Buck have moved into their new house on the west side.

Mrs. Judge DeWitt is paying an extended visit to her mother, Mrs. Rumley.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Baker have taken a residence on Seventh avenue.

With the disease. Under such circumstance, as when not properly treated, the boarseness becomes more marked and the boarseness becomes more marked and the child shows symptoms of having taken cold, then a peculiar rough cough is developed. Even at this stage Chamberlain's Cough has developed, the croup is liable to appear at any moment. The proper way, is to keep a bottle of this remedy at hand. It costs but fifty cente-hird of a bottle is required to dispel all symptoms of the disease. Can you afford to risk so much for so little? There is not the least danger in giving this remedy in large and frequent doses, which are always required, as it contains no injurious substance. As proof of this fact, we refer to Mr. John L. Olson of Des Moines, Ia., whose 10-months-old boy drank the entire contents of a fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy without the least injury. For sale by H. M. Parchen & Co.

Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best seiling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood. Herculean Strength Continually on the strain, or overtaxed at intervals, is far less desirable than ordinary vigor perpetuated by rational diet and exercise, and abstention from excess. Professional pugilists and athletes rarely attain old ional pugilists and athletes rarely attain old age. As ordinary vigor may be retained by a wise regard for sanitary living, and for the protection against disease which timely and judicious medication affords, so also it may be lost through prolonged sedentary labor, uninterrupted mental strain, and foolish eating and drinking, the chief and most immediate sequence of all four being dyspepsia. For this condition thus, or in any way induced, and for its offspring, a failure of muscular and nerve power, Hostetters Stomach Bitters is the primest and most genial of remedies. Not only indigestion, but loss of flesh, appetite and sleep are remedied by it. Incipient malaria and rheumatism are banished, and kidney, bowel and liver complaint removed by it.
